

THE PARKHURST SCHEME.

Work Mapped Out for the Newly Organized Young Men's League.

As Dr. Parkhurst goes about June 1 for his annual summer vacation of three months it is probable that the Young Men's League, which he put upon as yet exceeding tremulous pair of legs on Thursday night, will let "this unhappy island" take care of itself and jog on its way toward those dreadful demolition, however, which have caused the doctor to make so generous a sacrifice of his modesty within the last few months. Before he goes, we hope he proposes to advance the organization a little further and he will depart with a good conscience.

The reporter for The Sun called at his house yesterday afternoon he was too busy preparing for Sunday and for his Washington excursion to talk about his plans. He directed the reporter to a young lawyer, Mr. W. M. Kingsley, of 45 Exchange place, a deacon in his church and an usher in the right hand gallery as you enter. Mr. Kingsley is an enthusiastic admirer of the doctor, and with Mr. H. R. Twitchell, also an usher at the church, will take a most active part in the league of young men.

"We shall not do very much," said Mr. Kingsley, "toward effective work before next fall. As you noted, a committee was appointed at the meeting on Thursday night, consisting of two members of Dr. Parkhurst's church and three others. This committee will have a meeting within the next few days and will appoint a larger committee which will perfect the organization. At that Thursday night meeting about forty societies and guilds, Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish, were represented. These forty will be joined by about twenty more."

Then the effort will be divided up into districts and neighborhood, and take the district in whose neighborhood and will examine into the way the laws are enforced there. We will have, I expect, about 1,000 young men in our organization by fall. The organization will be in reality an adjunct and aid to the Society for the Prevention of Crime. Of course the young men will not do anything in the way of paid detective work. We will simply make reports to the society, and the society's detectives will collect the evidence."

"What forms of law breaking will you look after?" was asked.

"Well, we shall not touch the Fire Department. That is all right, so far as we can hear. It is very efficient, and no one has any fault to find with it. Then we shall look into the question of Street Cleaning. We want to know the condition of the streets and make complaints to the proper authorities. Then there is the question of Police Protection. We want to see the enforcement of the laws, the laws against disorderly houses and the gambling houses."

Mr. Kingsley said that the organization is entering of disorderly houses and watching circumstances as necessary.

"Oh, no," said Mr. Kingsley. "That will not be done. The young men can't come from the outside what houses are disorderly. They need not go in. They report the numbers and the society's detectives can do the rest."

Really the whole object of the society is not political nor detective, but to let people know what is going on. The young men can't come from the outside what houses are disorderly. They need not go in. They report the numbers and the society's detectives can do the rest."

Cleaning House.

Hard work or easy work, just as you choose. If you find it hard work, it's because you won't use Pearline. You'd rather waste your time and your strength with that absurd rubbing and scrubbing. Of course it's hard—that's why Pearline was invented—that's why Pearline is a household word. You don't know how easy it can be, until you let Pearline do the work. Then house-cleaning slips right along. It is over before you know it.

Pearline do the work. Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, he honest—send it back.

PRESIDENT BEERS'S PENSION.

The Attorney-General Asked to Decide Whether It Was Legally Granted.

ALBANY, May 12.—Attorney-General Rosenwald this morning gave a hearing in the matter of the New York Life Insurance Company granting to ex-President Beers a yearly pension of $37,500. Mr. Andrew Hamilton, Clerk of the Board of Claims, appeared for President McCall and the policyholders of the company. He said that he was not present as opposing counsel, but that the legality of such a pension was questioned by the other party, and it was believed that it was within the province of the Attorney-General to decide whether it was valid. The pension had been granted by the trustees, and it was believed as to the action of the trustees in the matter, that they had decided that before the pension was given they had obtained the opinions of the State authorities.

McCull appeared in behalf of ex-President Beers, who said that he was perfectly willing to abide by the decision of the Attorney-General. The pension had been granted by the trustees, and he believed that the pension was reasonable. The action was entirely legal, and that it was in no way infringing on the rights of the policyholders of the company.
